Do not take Amiodarone Hydrochloride Tablets if:

- You are allergic (hypersensitive) to:
  - amiodarone
  - iodine
- You are allergic (hypersensitive) to any of the other ingredients of Amiodarone Hydrochloride Tablets (listed in Section 6).
- You have a thyroid problem. Your doctor will need to monitor your thyroid function and may need to adjust your dose of other medicines you are taking.
- You have an intolerance to some sugars; you cannot tolerate or digest some sugars (have an intolerance to some sugars).
- You have any problems with your lungs or have asthma.
- You have any problems with your liver. Talk to your doctor or pharmacist about the amount of alcohol you can drink.
- You are drinking alcohol while taking this medicine. This is because drinking alcohol while taking this medicine will increase the chance of you having side effects.
- You are taking medicines below)

Taking Amiodarone Hydrochloride Tablets with food and drink:

- Do not drink grapefruit juice while taking this medicine. This is because drinking grapefruit juice while taking Amiodarone can increase your chance of getting side effects.
- Limit the amount of alcohol you drink while taking this medicine. This is because drinking alcohol while taking this medicine will increase the chance of you having side effects with your liver.
- Talk to your doctor or pharmacist about the amount of alcohol you can drink while taking this medicine.
- Limit the amount of alcohol you drink while taking this medicine. This is because drinking alcohol while taking this medicine will increase the chance of you having side effects.
- If you get more alcohol you can drink. This is because drinking alcohol while taking this medicine will increase the chance of you having side effects.
- Do not drink grapefruit juice while taking this medicine. This is because drinking grapefruit juice while taking Amiodarone can increase your chance of getting side effects.
- Limit the amount of alcohol you drink while taking this medicine. This is because drinking alcohol while taking this medicine will increase the chance of you having side effects with your liver.
- Talk to your doctor or pharmacist about the amount of alcohol you can drink while taking this medicine.
- Limit the amount of alcohol you drink while taking this medicine. This is because drinking alcohol while taking this medicine will increase the chance of you having side effects.
Very rare (affects less than 1 in 10,000 people)

- Headache
- Balance problems, feeling dizzy (vertigo)
- Clinical liver dysfunction
- Difficulty in getting or maintaining an erection or in ejaculating
- Hair loss, balding
- Skin rash
- Skin redness during radiotherapy
- Headache, nausea and vomiting,uzzing in the ears, double vision and other visual disturbances. This could be an illness called benign intracranial hypertension.
- Inflammation of blood vessels, often with skin rash.
- Hair loss (benign prostatic hypertrophy) (see the end of this leaflet).
- Feeling of warmth, sweating, headache, dizziness, palpitations, confusion (including delirium) [see Section 2.1, Important information on some of the ingredients of Amiodarone tablets].
- Hair and nail loss (alopecia areata) (see the end of this leaflet).
- Difficulty in breathing or wheezing in patients with severe respiratory failure.
- Impaired vision which may lead to blindness.
- Difficulty in breathing or wheezing in patients with severe respiratory failure and especially in patients who are suffering from asthma.
- Non-active ingredient (frequency cannot be estimated from the available data):
  - Amiodarone hydrochloride
  - Lactose monohydrate
  - Maize starch
  - Povidone
  - Hydroxypropyl cellulose
  - Sodium starch octacyclate
  - Triacetin
  - Hydroxy propyl methyl cellulose
  - Pregelatinised starch
  - Magnesium stearate
  - Colloidal anhydrous silica.
  - Other ingredients are lactose monohydrate, magnesium stearate and colloidal anhydrous silica.
  - See Section 2.1, Important information on some of the ingredients of Amiodarone tablets.