You know that you are allergic to trifluoperazine hydrochloride or any of the other ingredients of this medicine.

You should not drink alcohol whilst you are taking this medicine.

If you or anyone else in your family has a history of drugs

If you or someone else in your family has a history of blood disorders, as these medicines may affect your blood cells.

You should not drive or operate machinery until you have had a trial dose and your doctor has told you that it is safe to do so.

If you have chest pain (angina) and your pain is getting worse, if you have a heart attack or if you think you are having a stroke.

If you have chest pain (angina) or if you are having a heart attack, do not delay in getting medical help.

If you have been told by your doctor that you are intolerant to some sugars, contact your doctor before taking this medicine.

You should not take more than one dose at a time.

Take special care with Stelazine Tablets and tell your doctor if you are:

They work in the brain to affect the symptoms of schizophrenia, and related mental illnesses.

If you or anyone else in your family has diabetes, please tell your doctor or pharmacist.

If you have been prescribed this medicine for you. Do not pass it on to others.

At high doses, Stelazine Tablets are used to treat and prevent relapses of schizophrenia (a serious mental illness) and related conditions.

At a low dose, Stelazine Tablets are used to manage anxiety and depression. It is important that your doctor is aware if any of the side effects become serious, or if you have any side effects not listed in this leaflet, please tell your doctor or pharmacist.

At a low dose, Stelazine Tablets are used to treat nausea (feeling sick) and vomiting (being sick).

If any of the side effects become serious, or if you notice any side effects not listed in this leaflet, please tell your doctor or pharmacist.

It is used in this way for short periods of time.

At high doses, Stelazine Tablets are used to treat and prevent relapses of schizophrenia (a serious mental illness) and related conditions.

It is used in this way for short periods of time.

If you or anyone else in your family has diabetes, please tell your doctor or pharmacist.

At high doses, Stelazine Tablets are used to treat and prevent relapses of schizophrenia (a serious mental illness) and related conditions.

If you are taking or have recently taken any other medicines, ask your doctor or pharmacist for advice before taking any medicine.

If any of the side effects become serious, or if you notice any side effects not listed in this leaflet, please tell your doctor or pharmacist.