Slynd 4 mg
film-coated tablets: drospirenone

If you vomit or have severe diarrhoea within 3-4 hours after taking your white active tablet, you should wait for your next tablet and then take it as usual. You may not need to use the additional barrier contraceptive method for that long. Your doctor or pharmacist will advise you on this issue.

If you take two tablets at the same time. Continue taking the white active tablets for the next 7 days. After that you should be protected as before. If you have missed any tablets, ask your doctor or pharmacist for advice on how to prevent unintentional pregnancies.

If you forget to take two tablets on the same day, you should wait for your next tablet and then take it as usual. You may not need to use the additional barrier contraceptive method for that long. Your doctor or pharmacist will advise you on this issue.

If you vomit or have severe diarrhoea within 3-4 hours after taking your white active tablet, you should wait for your next tablet and then take it as usual. You may not need to use the additional barrier contraceptive method for that long. Your doctor or pharmacist will advise you on this issue.

If you take two tablets at the same time. Continue taking the white active tablets for the next 7 days. After that you should be protected as before. If you have missed any tablets, ask your doctor or pharmacist for advice on how to prevent unintentional pregnancies.

If you forget to take two tablets on the same day, you should wait for your next tablet and then take it as usual. You may not need to use the additional barrier contraceptive method for that long. Your doctor or pharmacist will advise you on this issue.

If you vomit or have severe diarrhoea within 3-4 hours after taking your white active tablet, you should wait for your next tablet and then take it as usual. You may not need to use the additional barrier contraceptive method for that long. Your doctor or pharmacist will advise you on this issue.

If you take two tablets at the same time. Continue taking the white active tablets for the next 7 days. After that you should be protected as before. If you have missed any tablets, ask your doctor or pharmacist for advice on how to prevent unintentional pregnancies.

If you forget to take two tablets on the same day, you should wait for your next tablet and then take it as usual. You may not need to use the additional barrier contraceptive method for that long. Your doctor or pharmacist will advise you on this issue.

If you vomit or have severe diarrhoea within 3-4 hours after taking your white active tablet, you should wait for your next tablet and then take it as usual. You may not need to use the additional barrier contraceptive method for that long. Your doctor or pharmacist will advise you on this issue.

If you take two tablets at the same time. Continue taking the white active tablets for the next 7 days. After that you should be protected as before. If you have missed any tablets, ask your doctor or pharmacist for advice on how to prevent unintentional pregnancies.